TURTLE POINT AT KIAWAH ISLAND GOLF RESORT

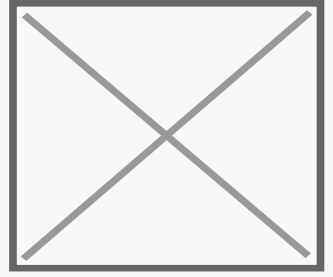

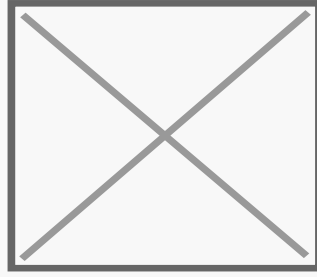

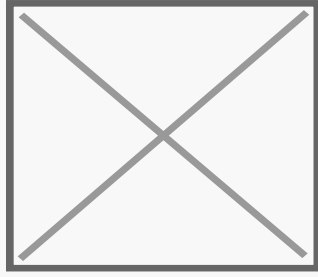

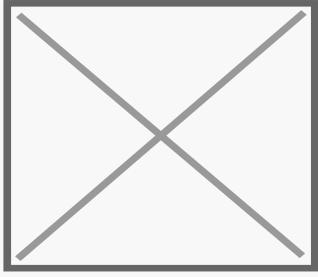

After a comprehensive nine-month renovation led by Jack Nicklaus and members of his architectural team, Turtle Point reopened in late 2016 to rave player reviews. Sweeping improvements included regrassing with Paspalum, rebuilding of all bunkers, laser-leveling all tee boxes and reestablishing irrigation throughout the course.

OAK POINT AT KIAWAH ISLAND GOLF RESORT

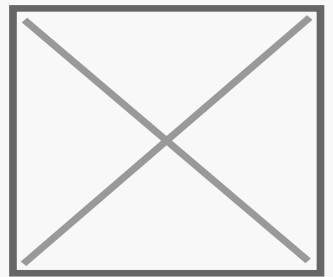

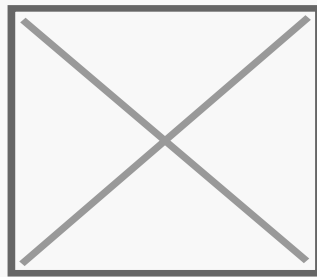

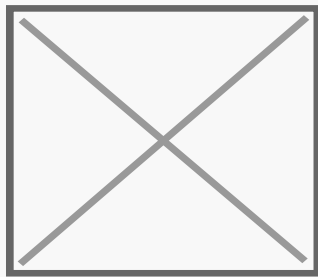

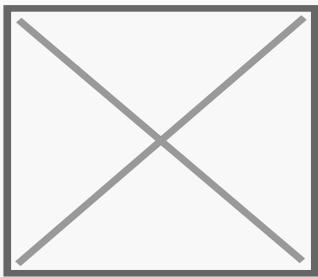

The proud recipient of the 2019 Charleston Golf Course Owners Association Course of the Year, Oak Point delivers a superior playing surface with its regrassing in Paspalum and more significant strategic challenges through a refreshed design. Originally conceived by Clyde Johnston, a noted Southeastern golf course architect, Oak Point sits by the Kiawah River and Haulover Creek, surrounded by maritime forest.

THE OCEAN COURSE AT KIAWAH ISLAND GOLF RESORT

Join the ranks of avid golfers who have The Ocean Course at Kiawah Island Golf Resort on their must-play list for a true test of skill. Located on the eastern-most end of the island, The Ocean Course boasts the most seaside holes in the Northern Hemisphere with ten hugging the Atlantic and the other eight running parallel to those. Although it was originally planned to sit behind the dunes, designer Pete Dye's wife, Alice, suggested raising the entire course to give players unobstructed views of Kiawah's stunning coastline from every hole. One catch? This improved view made the course substantially more demanding as it also exposed play to the Atlantic's brisk and unpredictable breezes.

OSPREY POINT AT KIAWAH ISLAND GOLF RESORT

What began as a members-only golf course on the island, renowned for its playability, has become a championship-level course with a world-class layout that was completely renovated in 2014 under the direction of architect Tom Fazio. Today's Osprey Point still offers just as much playability and natural beauty and receives rave reviews for its impeccable conditions and elegant clubhouse.
